(LIXth YEAR.) THE (No. 2966.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1803.

TRASTADT, September 5.

DR. HAUGH, of this city, has received the following interesting letter from Dr. Carro, of Venna, dated the 23d of August.

"A discovery which will excite your astonishment, as well as that of the whole world, has been made by two physicians, a Mr. Aubon, of Constantinople, and a Mr. Lafond, of Salonichi, a city in Macedonia. The experiments made by these two medical men have a perfect though merely accidental coincidence; and those made by both give the assurance, that the vaccine matter is a sovereign prevention for the ravages of the plague. The proofs of Mr. Aubon are, that of 6000 persons, inoculated by him with the vaccine matter in Constantinople, not one has been attacked by the plague; that children who had been thus inoculated, were expresly put to the breast of their mothers, while struggling with the plague, and nevertheless escaped all infection; that an Italian physician, at present in Turkey, solely for the purpose of gathering observations on the plague, from a conviction that the vaccine matter prevented infection, went fearlessly into the hospitals, and conversed with and touched persons dangerously ill of the disorder, without the smallest consequence; that in the villages bordering on Constantinople, where the cowpox is prevalent, the plague had made no progress; that when any of the inhabitants of those villages caught the infection in another place, and returned home, they either died or recovered, without infecting any other person; and that, lastly, the confidence of the Armenians in the preventative was so unbounded, that numbers annually underwent the vaccine mode of inoculation expresly to guard against the plague.

NEW-YORK, November 9.

From the Mediterranean.

Captain Graft of the ship Vigilant, who arrived here yesterday morning in 36 days from Malaga, informs us, that a few days previous to his sailing, a British brig had arrived there, which had been boarded off Cape St. Vincents by a Moorish frigate of 32 guns, who had taken four American vessels. The Constellation had boarded this frigate, and examined her papers—she had a pass from the American consul, and they permitted her to proceed. There was a Moorish vessel lying at Malaga, the master of which informed capt. Graft, that he had received a letter from the capt. of a xebeck of 12 guns, who informed him he had captured three American vessels, and had sent them into Morocco.—Moorish cruisers are out in every direction, and capturing all Americans that come in their way.

BALTIMORE, November 9.

BOMBARDMENT of CALAIS.

Captain Gibbs, of the ship Washington, in 33 days from Rotterdam, informs us, that he passed Calais on the 30th September, at which time he discovered 9 sail of frigates and gun boats, keeping up a constant fire on that place. He was informed by a Dungeness pilot boat, that they were the British secret expedition under the command of general Moore and Sir Sidney Smith, and that they had been engaged for 36 hours in the bombardment of Calais. He further informs us, that the French refuse entrance to all neutral vessels which had cleared out from England for any port in France; and that several vessels so circumstanced, had been obliged to return or seek another market. [N. Y. pap.]

November 10.

Extract of a letter from Washington.

"On September 1st Bainbridge took the Moorish cruiser and the brig Celia into Gibraltar. He immediately released the Celia, so as to enable her to proceed on her original voyage; put his first lieutenant with eight men, in charge of the prize, a 22 gun frigate; took all the Moors on board the Philadelphia, and the same day proceeded in search of the 32 gun frigate, then on a cruise against the Americans. A letter from captain Preble, dated off Cape St. Vincents, September 4, states, that he expected to be at Gibraltar on the 6th. He was not there on the 9th—was however expected every moment—and about the same time the Vixen brig ought also to have been at Gibraltar. The capture of one, and the probable capture of his other frigate, &c. &c. may incline the emperor to an immediate adjustment of our differences. It is believed by some that the emperor willed to get clear of the present treaty, and is therefore very ready to avail himself of every pretence for a rupture. The governor of Tangier has however denied, that any authority has been given to cruise against the Americans, and has even dared to imprison our consul, with a declaration that he should not be released until the frigate be returned. Upon the application of the other consuls, and upon their becoming security that he would not, without the permission of the emperor, leave his dominions, he has been released."

Society will lament the death of this amiable young man, who was a good ſon, an affectionate brother, and a faithful friend. In the morning of life he has fallen a victim to a malignant climate, at the moment that his friends had anticipated his future uſefulneſs and worth. Their diſappointment will be allayed by the reflection, that he has been sooner than they releaſed from a world of ſorrow. "Weep not for me but for yourſelves."

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

Yeſterday arrived at this port, the ſhip Chatham, capt. Chew, in 35 days from Liverpool. The editors feel themſelves indebted to capt. Chew for London papers to the 28th, Liverpool to the 30th, and Glaſgow papers to the 23d of September.

The preparations for invading England were progreſſing with conſiderable activity in the ports of France, and it was expected the attempt would ſpeedily be made. The troops were to aſſemble about the middle of September, and the command is ſaid to be finally arranged in the following manner:

French army of England.

Right wing. General Davouſt, commander of the con. guard. Under him, general Dumas, chief of the ſtaff.

Centre. Bonaparte, commander in chief. Under him, general Berthier, ſecretary of war, and chief of the general ſtaff.

Left wing. General Soult. Under him, general Andreoſſi, chief of the ſtaff.

Army of reſerve. General Ney.

Rigid meaſures had been adopted in Spain, to repreſs a ſpirit of diſaffection which miniſeſted itſelf among the people. The emperor of Morocco, had declared war againſt the Genoeſe, and had ſeized one of their veſſels at Tangiers.

Portugal had ſubmitted to the demands of the French, as made by general Laſnes, and Don Joſe De Almeida, of the foreign department, diſmiſſed; and M. Pinto, put in his place.

Spain had made a compromiſe to preſerve her neutrality, and, that inſtead of the naval aid which by the treaty of 1796 ſhe was bound to render France, a ſum of money is to be ſubſtituted—£.3,000,000 ſterling per ann. is named as the price of this indulgence.

The remonſtrance of the Ruſſian court reſpecting Hanover had not been attended with ſucceſs, in conſequence of which an alliance offenſive and defenſive was on the point of taking place between that monarch and Auſtria.

The courts of Naples and Portugal had appealed to the emperor of Ruſſia to protect them by his mediation from a French invaſion, and that he promiſed to exert it.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS, October 7.

Lauſſet and the Spaniſh government here are quarrelling. The rupture originated in a very improper and unauthoriſed act of the former. The cutter Terruer, a national veſſel, being in want of hands to proceed to ſea, the prefect permitted her captain and officers to reſort to the expedient of preſſing the French ſeamen from the merchant veſſels in the harbour, which they did without the advice or conſent of the Spaniſh government, and proceeded on their voyage. Phil. Gaz.

H. HAYDEN,
DENTIST,

GRATEFULLY acknowledges the liberal encouragement he has experienced from the ladies and gentlemen of Annapolis, during his former viſits to this city; and from the numerous opportunities he has had in this place of evincing the utility of a judicious operation on the teeth and gums, he deems it unneceſſary to enter into a detail of the variety of caſes incident to the teeth, or the advantages to be derived from a ſeaſonable application for profeſſional aid; he therefore preſents his warmeſt reſpects to his friends and patrons, and to the honourable gentlemen of the legiſlature, and ſolicits their confidence and patronage.

All diſeaſes of the gums, and operations on the teeth, will be treated with every mark of delicacy and tenderneſs.

ADVERTISEMENT.

A NATIVE and citizen of France, and once possessed of a large and abundant fortune, situated in the island of St. Domingo, I necessarily contracted some debts in France, and also in that island. These debts were very inconsiderable, when compared with my ability to pay them, and would have been promptly discharged if demanded whilst my situation remained as it was when they were contracted. The troubles of my native country drove me to seek refuge in Maryland in the year 1793, and the subsequent revolutions in St. Domingo have stript me of all my property, except a mere trifle, which I brought with me to Maryland. Those who had demands against me for European transactions have taken from me that trifle I had here, and have left me unable to pay the demands of the like nature that are still outstanding against me. To protect my body, sixty-five years old, and worn down with disease and misfortune, from the horrors of a gaol, I shall petition the next general assembly of the state of Maryland to pass an insolvent act in my favour, of which I thus publicly give notice.

4 PHILIP TRUMAN BRISCOE.

Charles county, October 10, 1803.

Forty Dollars Reward.

RAN away, on Monday the 31st of October, a very likely negro fellow named SAM, 23 years old, about five feet, five or six inches high, of a dark complexion, has a good set of teeth, and is very artful; I cannot particularize his cloaths, as he has a variety, and such as are very good, among which is a genteel pair of buckskin pantaloons, and a pair of half boots. It is highly probable it is his intention to go entirely off, and has obtained a free pass to assist him. Whoever takes up said negro, and secures him in any gaol, so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward, by the subscriber, living on West river, in Anne-Arundel county, and State of Maryland.
